The manual training exhibit in-cludes bread and meat boards, novel milking stools with a bucket attachment, ironing boards and other articles made in the shops and the work is all up to a good standard. A doll's house made by the pupils of the low fourth grade is another spe-cial attraction. The house is complete with furniture and electric lights, the latter an innovation which makes it novel and interesting. The little lights are connected with a set of batteries and are turned off and on at will.

Exhibits of Needlework. There are several exhibits of needle sewed into ambulance covers for use

Had you had the courage and opportunity to invest $100 with King C. Gillette when he was raising capital to market the safety razor back in 1901 you would now be receiving approximately $3,000.00 a year in dividends. That would place you in the income tax list. Remember, fortunes are made not by hard work, but by investing. One hundred dollars put to work in our factory will earn more than you can in wages.

Who would refuse to give $100 for the privilege of letting wheels of machinery earn him $3,000.00 annually? Invest now while the chance is before you and our enterprise is in its infancy. Next week will be too late. Chances like this come seldom and leave no address.
